Nach der Eingabe des Stichwortes werden Ihnen alle Ergebnisse angezeigt. Sie können diese mittels der Filter am linken Rand noch weiter einschränken.

The screenshot shows the World Digital Library search results for the keyword "Trade". The interface includes a top navigation bar with "WORLD DIGITAL LIBRARY", "Explore", "Timelines", "Interactive Maps", and "Themes". On the right, it mentions "LIBRARY OF CONGRESS" and "With the support of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization".

The search results are displayed in a gallery view. The search bar contains "Trade" and shows "2,490 results in English". The left sidebar contains filters for "Place", "Time Period", "Topic", "Additional Subjects", "Type of Item", "Language", and "Institution".

The search results list the following items:

- Great Trading Routes of the Sahara: This 1889 map of trans-Saharan trading routes by French explorer Edouard Blanc reflects the growing priority that Europeans gave to land-based trade during the late 19th-century imperial "scramble for Africa." In articles about his work, Blanc stressed the importance of identifying "natural" geographic routes that would connect French colonial possessions in west Africa, such as Senegal, to Algeria in north Africa, and link the Mediterranean coast to Sudan and central Africa. Blanc based his maps not only on his own travels but also on nearly a century of reports from ...

- Commercial Agreement (Slave Trade): Timbuktu (present-day Tombouctou in Mali), founded around 1100 as a commercial center for trade across the Sahara Desert, was also an important seat of Islamic learning from the 14th century onward. The libraries there contain many important manuscripts, in different styles of Arabic scripts, which were written and copied by Timbuktu's scribes and scholars. These works constitute the city's most famous and long-lasting contribution to Islamic and world civilization. Wath'iqah Tijāriyah (Commercial agreement) is a contract among merchants involved in the sale and transportation of slaves between Timbuktu ...
